with National Marine Sanctuaries

A Workshop for Educators in Georgia for the Southeastern Region

May 13-14, 2005
Tybee Island, Georgia

NOAA's National Marine Sanctuary Program invites educators throughout the southeast to participate in the exciting and unique Dive into Education Program! This one of a kind workshop for formal and informal educators features presenters from all fourteen sites within NOAA's National Marine Sanctuary Program. Beautiful Tybee Island is the setting for this intriguing marine science education workshop that provides participants with resources and training to support ocean literacy in America's classrooms and for the general public. Tailored for grades K-4, 5-8, and 9-12 as well as informal groups, the workshop offers engaging, innovative sessions that include beach monitoring, mock shipwrecks, satellite oceanography, and watershed activities. Participating teachers will have the opportunity to apply for professional development units.

A registration fee of $50 covers the evening reception, lunch, materials, and the invaluable wealth of knowledge, experiences and diverse programs from Education Coordinators as far away as American Samoa, Hawai'i, California and the Olympic Coast to as close as the Florida Keys, Eastern Seaboard, Great Lakes and the Gulf Coast. You won't want to miss this once in a career event to learn from national level educators from across the nation and South Pacific. Come join us and Dive into Education!
